

Restaurants

Need a quick meal that will not cost you much, the list of restaurants below are just a short walk from the convention.

Cheap Eats

1. Potbelly Sandwich Shop
K Street between 9th and 10th
2. Quizno Sandwich Shop
I Street between 8th and 7th?
3. 5 Guys (Hamburgers)
H Street between 9th and 8th
4. ZPizza
H Street between 9th and 8th

Walk down to the Verizon Center and you will find many restaurants, including China Town which will provide inexpensive options for meals.

The restaurants below were highlighted by Google Maps for good meals. Timing is everything and Restaurant week is on during the conference!!!!

Brasserie Beck

Sleek spot for Belgian beer & cuisine
1101 K St NW, Washington, DC 20005
(202) 408-1717 · brasseriebeck.com
★★★★☆ 180 reviews

Summer Restaurant Week at Brasserie Beck!!!

Aug.15.2016 – August 21

Join us for summer restaurant week, we will be serving exciting menus for lunch and dinner ($22 lunch, $35 Dinner)

City Tap House of DC - Penn Quarter

New American gastropub with craft beers
901 9th St NW, Washington, DC 20001
(202) 733-5333 · citytaphousedc.com
★★★★☆ 108 reviews

OUR
KEGS
ARE TAPPED...

Offering craft brews from around the country—and the world—authentic, brick oven-cooked pizza and elevated, American pub fare, City Tap House® has updated the gastropub experience. Focusing on a rustic yet comfortable bar and dining atmosphere featuring reclaimed barnwood and repurposed steel, guests can enjoy private dining as well as a lively bar scene. With daily happy hour drink specials, seasonal outdoor seating on our patio, and craft brewery-based special events, City Tap House® offers guests the best—and most exciting—new bar and restaurant experience in Washington DC.

El Rinconcito Cafe

Go-to for Mexican & Salvadoran eats
1129 11th St NW, Washington,
DC 20001
(202) 789-4110
★★★★★ 92 reviews

The foods were freshly prepared and delivered to our table piping hot! I'd never had pupusas before and thoroughly enjoyed both of my two choices. The refried beans and cheese were bursting through with every bite. The skin was chewy yet crispy. With a splash of hot sauce - so good! The chicken tamale was unbelievably creamy - it literally melt in my mouth! Stuffed with chickpeas, cubed potatoes, and shredded chicken - so tasty, so satisfying! (A review on YELP)

Fine Dining

Check out the web sites to see more information on these restaurants.

Acadiana is a contemporary Louisiana fish house, the only restaurant in the nation's capital to serve Louisiana cuisine at a heightened level of elegance.

Chef Jeff Tunks cherishes his years working in New Orleans and opened Acadiana to celebrate the bounty of Louisiana. Featuring the finest of seafood and premium meats, he and Executive Chef Brant Tesky employ various cooking techniques from the colorful ethnic areas spanning southern Louisiana, serving up the rich and complex flavors - the roux, the rémoulades, the bisques, and the étouffées, for which the region is known. Acadiana's contemporary décor captures the atmosphere of warm breezes and mysterious swamps.

Esquire Magazine named Acadiana one of the "Best New Restaurants", and Washingtonian magazine deems it one of the city's "100 Very Best Restaurants".

Restaurant Week At Acadiana!

August 15th - August 21st, 2016

$22 Lunch ~ $35 Dinner

Enjoy a three-course meal at Acadiana for lunch or dinner during Restaurant Week! Choose from a variety of appetizers and desserts, and select any entrée from our regular menu.

Corduroy

New American dining in townhouse digs
1122 9th St NW, Washington,
DC 20001
(202) 589-0699 ·
corduroydc.com
★★★★☆ 40 reviews

<http://www.corduoydc.com>

"Hidden Treasure! You can't see it from the street, but Corduroy is worth searching for...You see hints of Power's apprenticeship with Michel Richard in some dishes...but what comes across most clearly is not any particular influence, but rather that this is the cooking of a chef in love with the inherently good flavors of fresh produce. He may enhance them, but he resists any temptation to try to improve on them. Eating lunch or dinner at Corduroy has provided something of the thrill of going to the Dupont Circle farmers market on Sunday to see what's fresh and interesting."

--Thomas Head, The Washingtonian

Zaytinya

Mediterranean meze in bustling setting
701 9th St NW, Washington,
DC 20001
(202) 638-0800 · zaytinya.com
★★★★☆ 436 reviews

Zaytinya Celebrates DC Summer Restaurant Week

August 15 – 28

DC's favorite dining event of the summer is back, and we cannot wait to celebrate by offering special menus showcasing our signature Mediterranean dishes. From August 15th through 28th, join us to enjoy summertime classics, including our refreshing watermelon and feta salad and flavorful seared Skuna Bay salmon.

Lunch Menu: $22 (three mezzes plus dessert)

Dinner Menu: $35 (four mezzes plus dessert)

We hope to see you for this end of the summer celebration!

Tortino Restaurant

Northern Italian eats & cocktails
1228 11th St NW, Washington,
DC 20001
(202) 312-5570 ·
tortinorestaurant.com
★★★★☆ 38 reviews

We are open for LUNCH.

Monday-Friday

Lunch Special $20

11:30am to 2:30pm

Thally

Hip spot for creative New American fare
1316 9th St NW, Washington,
DC 20001
(202) 733-3849 · thallydc.com
★★★★☆ 19 reviews

Bringing new flavor to 9th St. NW in the Shaw neighborhood of Washington, DC, Thally serves Modern American Cuisine created by Executive Chef Jesse Long, along with a rotating list of wines and craft beers, custom cocktails and unique spirits in a 70 seat restaurant which includes a 14 seat bar. Our food is best summed up in three words: Simple, Fresh, and Flavorful.

SOCIAL HOUR EVERYDAY

5:00pm - 7:30pm @ the Bar

$4 off thallytails, wine of the day, beers on tap & all 750ml cider bottles

Restaurant Week August 15 - 21

Standard Restaurant Week Pricing, ($22 lunch, $35 Dinner)

NEW FOODIE RESTAURANT

HOME

WHAT'S HAPPENING @BOE

HAPPY HOURS

777 9th ST NW WASHINGTON DC 20001

202.393.1400

DC's party circuit heated up as the city's socially savvy anticipated the arrival of warmer weather. In the lead up to springtime, Washingtonians feted everything from restaurant openings to local fashion designers—and even sipped tropical cocktails at an indoor luau. Foodie fans flocked to the opening of BOE, which took over the space that formerly housed Ova, in Penn Quarter. Arena Stage got introspective with the premiere of The City of Conversation, a politically charged play about a DC dynasty starring actress Margaret Colin. Local fashionistas put their designs on display at the W with the DC Fashion Foundation's Fashion Incubator event. The National Museum of the American Indian looked forward to warmer weather with an indoor soiree that featured mai tais and traditional Hawaiian music. Claudia's Steakhouse hosted a VIP party for its most loyal red meat-loving patrons. Nouvelle Tysons, the luxe apartments in the rapidly developing neighborhood, welcomed potential residents to an Art Soiree-sponsored Mardi Gras-themed party, complete with a live New Orleans jazz band. The Fashion Group International's DC chapter shared spring trends from New York Fashion Week with a presentation and party at Sax Lounge. The National Education Association's annual Salute to Education gala feted excellent educators at the National Building Museum. Beer Director Greg Engert toasted beer oasis, The Sovereign. The art Film Festival drew a climate change its opening-night party. And winter-w came out post-blizzard for an over-th Park featuring giant ice sculptures

[SNAPSHOTS]

TAKE A LOOK INSIDE THE CITY'S MOST RECENT FABULOUS AND FASHIONABLE EVENTS.

BOE Restaurant Opening

- 1] Terri Grupenhoff and Christina Mohr were all smiles at the grand opening of BOE.
- 2] Dolci Gelati owner Anastasia Dellaccio; local artist Maggie O'Neill; and Michelle Obama's makeup artist, Carl Ray, attended the BOE restaurant opening and sampled the fabulous food.

Enter the National Portrait Gallery/Smithsonian American Art Museum and enjoy the indoor café in the atrium, get a coffee or a meal. This is an awesome gem of the Smithsonian museums that sees much less traffic than the museums on the mall. See the gallery of American President's portraits. Check out the website for the current special exhibitions.

<http://npg.si.edu/>

National Portrait Gallery

8th St NW & F St NW, Washington, DC 20001

11:30 am to 7 pm